The objective of the EUCHIRES projects is to promote the use of seat belts and child restraint systems, with emphasis on car occupants in the back seats, mainly children from 4 to 12 years old.

The project is based on the "Armadillo" campaign launched in 2003 in the Netherlands. This successful campaign inspired organisations from other countries to implement the same kind of approach to promote the use of seat belts. This was done in 2005 and 2006 in the scope of the EUCHIRES projects.

The aim of the EUCHIRES 2007 campaign is to bring about a permanent change in behavior among the drivers and their passengers in order to reduce the number of casualties and injuries due to driving unbuckled.
